Property Evaluation Checklist

During property viewings, it's essential to keep a keen eye on various aspects of the home. This checklist will help you focus on key elements to ensure you're making an informed decision.

GENERAL CONDITION

- ☐ Assess overall maintenance and condition of the property. Evaluate room layouts, flow, and sun exposure. Imagine your furniture—does it fit?

STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY

- ☐ Check for signs of structural issues, like cracks in walls or uneven floors. Watch for floor squeaks, sloping, or cracks in floors/walls/ceiling.

SURFACE CONDITIONS

- ☐ Look for wear or damage in floors, walls, trim—tiles, carpets, peeling paint
Check ceilings for stains or bubbling—signs of leaks.

AGE AND CONDITION OF ROOF

- ☐ Note the condition and apparent age of the roof.

PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL SYSTEMS

- ☐ Test taps, showers, flush toilets, and test lights/outlets; look for leaks, rust or outdated wiring.

HEATING AND COOLING SYSTEMS

- ☐ Check the functionality and age of HVAC systems. Note HVAC unit age, noise, and visible condition

APPLIANCES & HARDWARE

- ☐ Inspect built-in appliances, cabinets, window blinds, light fixtures. Check ceiling fans, exhaust fans, and electrical panels.

WINDOWS AND DOORS

- ☐ Ensure windows and doors open smoothly and check for drafts & weather seals.

STORAGE SPACE

- ☐ Evaluate closets and storage areas for adequacy.

YARD AND EXTERIOR

- ☐ Consider the condition and size of the yard and external structures. Check curb appeal - roof, siding, landscaping. Look for proper drainage, gutters, and healthy trees.

ODORS & AIR QUALITY

- ☐ Sniff for dampness, mold, pet odors, or strong cleaners. Notice room humidity or mustiness, especially in basements.

NEIGHBORHOOD VIBE

- ☐ Take note of the neighborhood's atmosphere during your visit.

OUTDOOR & SAFETY

- ☐ Walk the yard—check for grading, pooling water, foundation cracks. Spot deck, staircase, fence, shed conditions—look for rot, stabilit

Tips for the Showing

As we tour the home, please keep in mind that many sellers have cameras or audio recording devices, even if they're not visible. It's best to stay neutral in our comments—both inside and outside the home—so we don't unintentionally reveal anything that could affect our negotiating power later.

Bring a notebook/phone to note details or take pictures.

Feel free to open everything—doors, closets, cabinets.

Take your time—observe thoroughly, don't rush.

Ask questions on the spot or save them for our debrief.

Showing Etiquette Essentials for Buyers

1. Be Mindful of Surveillance

Many homes have cameras and microphones. Refrain from making comments—positive or negative—while on the property. We'll debrief privately afterward to protect your privacy and negotiating position.

2. Arrive On Time

Showings are scheduled in time blocks—being late can overlap with another buyer or risk cancellation. Let me know if you're running behind so I can coordinate.

3. Limit the Group

Only bring decision-makers or close family/friends. Too many people can be overwhelming and distracting during a first showing.

4. No Food or Drinks

Please leave snacks and beverages in the car to prevent spills or messes—especially in staged or luxury homes.

5. Watch the Kids (and Pets!)

For safety and courtesy, it's best to leave young children and pets at home if possible. If they do come, they'll need close supervision.

6. Take Notes, Not Opinions (at First!)

Keep a neutral mindset during the tour—we'll process your thoughts afterward so nothing slips in the moment that could be overheard or misunderstood.

7. Don't Use the Bathroom

Unless it's an emergency, it's best to wait. Some homes have water shut off or staged bathrooms.

8. Leave the Home As You Found It

We'll make sure doors are locked, lights are off (unless told otherwise), and we leave everything tidy and secure.
